DECLARATION OF CONFORMITY

on Global Automotive Declarable Substances List (GADSL)

OTELINOX complies with the legal requirements stipulated by Global Automotive Declarable Substances List (GADSL) professionally, like all other European producers of stainless steel.

During our manufacturing processes the stainless steel strips does not change the chemical composition, for thus we can declare that our products do not contain the substances¹ listed on the web-site: www.gadsl.org (version from February, 2023).

We hereby confirm that, to the best of our knowledge, our products, cold rolled stainless steel strips and sheets comply with “Global Automotive Declarable Substances List (GADSL)”.

General Director,
Yong Deok KIM

¹ The GADSL list* contains all of the materials that come into use in the manufacturing of vehicles that are considered potentially hazardous to health and the environment, across the entire globe.
